How To Prune Effectively Workshop

As the spring weather begins to improve and keen gardeners young and old step outside to begin the task of bringing their gardens back to life after the harshest winter for many years, tuition and advice is at hand. Head Gardener of 30 years at Gilbert White's House & Garden at Selborne, David Standing, has a few places remaining on the popular 'How to Prune Effectively' workshop on Monday 22nd March (10am–4pm).

It offers the opportunity to learn from David's vast experience and infectious enthusiasm as a wide range of plants are discussed and pruning techniques demonstrated, with the chance to ask questions and have a go, all in the beautiful surroundings of Gilbert White's beloved Hampshire garden.

The workshop costs £35 to include refreshments and can be booked by telephoning Gilbert White's House & Garden and The Oates Collection at Selborne on 01420 511275.
